

SHOWBIZ KIDS AND TEENS TALENT AND PLACEMENT ACADEMY MISSION STATEMENT

Showbiz Kids and Teens is an independent acting, modeling, dancing, and singing academy. We are unique in the fact that we market our clients on a regular basis to industry professionals such as agents, managers, and casting directors from Miami, Orlando, Los Angeles, and New York.

Partners Ann Massart and Marcia Blythe have over twenty years combined experience and knowledge in the industry. They are both mothers of children that are working in the industry and know what it takes for your child to become a success.

We strive to give our clients the best coaches and opportunities. Our staff prides itself on making sure the children are learning to the best of their ability.

As much as our focus is on developing the Showbiz kids and teens there are many benefits to be learned when joining this academy. Tools that will take with them for the rest of their lives such as confidence building, public speaking skills, manners, and also the ability to start interviewing for potential work at a young age. This program changes children's lives and the results have been extraordinary.

We know that families are extremely busy driving their children to many different activities. We have created programs for your children to explore the entertainment industry with the flexibility of coming to one location. Workshops will not interfere with their schooling as we offer evening and weekend workshops. One pre-requisite we do require of the children is that they are currently successful in school. We do require a 3.0 or higher grade point average to become involved with this academy.
